FOR COTTON BALES.

Wire Has Been Used for the Broad

A bale of cotton shipped from Columbia reached Charleston recently.

The only thing peculiar about this bale of cotton was the thing. Instead of the black iron straps that usually encircle the tightly pressed cotton, six small galvanized wires were seen, and the staple had strained and pressed at these bands and swelled out considerably between them. The bagging had not been cut, however, and the wires seemed to be a very fair substitute.

The wires were tied with a twist similar to that used on telegraph lines. The crucial test will not be had until the bale has been compressed, and it is the opinion of some that the wires will then cut through or break with the strain.

The bale of wired cotton has been seen by a number of cotton men, and the opinion of one or two was dis-smissive. "I don't see where the is going to be benefited," he says. "Say he pays 23 and for ties, he sells them cents a pound. The cost of the wire is about 2 cents, and it takes only pounds for a bale. Figure it out. Four pounds at 3 cents cost 12 cents, and sell for 23 cents; the iron weighs about six pounds; say cost 15 cents, and sell for 42 cents, and the farmer actually gains 30 cents per bale and goes into the business with a profit.

"The besides, this wiring is no trouble to fasten than the old, and will take more time to compress, I think. I don't think it has been urged

NAPOLEONIANA

Bed on Which Napoleon Died—Extravagant Prices Paid for Relics.

A Frenchman has been hunting for the bed on which Napoleon died; he has found one at the Hotel des Invalides; one, at the Tussaud, one at Graville museum; one belonging to Marquis de Biron; one which belonged to Marshal Bertrand, now in the possession of a member of the Napoleon family; and one which belonged to Prince Murat, which was squashed to him by Queen Caroline. If the gentleman extended his inquiries to America, he might double the number.

There are at least 50 cocked hats, alleged to have belonged to Napoleon, in the hands of American collectors alone; these enterprising individuals may not be very glad to know that only nine genuine ones exist, and that they are all in France! At the disposal of William Black's museum, which about three quarters of a century ago was one of the sights of London, a number of articles which belonged to Napoleon came under the hammer, and "nothing" could exceed the eagerness with which they were "knocked in," says a contemporary chronicler. The most remarkable and important item of the lot was Napoleon's carriage, with its fitting and conveniences, exactly as when he abandoned it on his flight from Waterloo. For this sum of 2168 was paid. It had been obtained by Balbock at a great cost, but it turned out to be the most lucrative concern in which the speculator ever embarked, he secured over the consignor who drove it, but probably this item was not included in the above count.

The other Napoleon relics sold at the same time included a small opera glass, which fetched 9 guineas; a toothbrush, which realized 31 guineas; a snuffbox, £168 18s. 6d.; military stock or collar, £1 17s.; a pair of old slippers, £1; a common razor, 4 guineas; a piece of sponge,

7s. 6d.; a shaving brush, £3 14s.; a shirt, £2 5s.; a comb, £1; a shaving box, 7 guineas; a pair of old gloves,

£1; an old pocket handkerchief, 14 guineas; while many other items realized equally extravagant prices. We do not, after all, very much value them, nor do our forefathers in the matter of what we collect, for it may be safely said that if these relics again came into the market they would realize at least two or three times the above figures.—Temple Bar.

PILGRIMS TO CANTERBURY.

The Way They Go in These Days of Modern Convenience.

In the olden days pilgrims to Canterbury who could not afford to ride, trudged the way, thus conducting to the prosperity of the hospitable country inns which are fast disappearing from the land for the lack of support. To-day those bent on a similar mission do the business in a more comfortable manner. A pilgrimage is a la mode consists of breakfast in the morning at home, a jaunt in a comfortable railway carriage, luncheon at Canterbury, return by train after prayers and sermon, and dinner in London. Physical discomfort is thus completely obliterated, and the mind is consequently left free and undisturbed for the contemplation of the higher objects of pilgrimage, such as the bones of the saints.

It was in this way that a body of devout persons, intent on the reclamation of England to the Roman Catholic faith, and known as the Guild of the Virgin, set out from Holborn, after attending service in St. Etheldreda's, Ely

Canterbury, to pray at the shrine of the unfortunate Thomas a Becket. There they were met by contingents of similar mission from the neighborhood, most of whom were of some religious order. The relics of the saint were received in due form, and prayers were recited for the restoration of our country to "the true religion."

The London contingent then returned home by train.—London

Presenting a Fish to the Pope.

A big swordfish caught at Reggio di Calabria was recently presented to the Pope. It was taken on the marble staircase of the Vatican on the back of a strong porter, who was preceded and followed by squads of Swiss guard. In the pope's antechamber the fish was stretched out on a white cloth upon a marble table, surrounded by lemons and oranges and covered with lemon and laurel leaves. Near it was placed the fishing gear with which it had been caught, the pole, nets and arras. Pope Leo came out to see the fish, walking erect and looking very strong for him, and had a long talk with the Capuchin monk who had come to present the fish to him in behalf of the Reggio fishermen.

WE DEMAND the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation. We demand that the standard silver dollar shall be a full legal tender equally with gold for all debts, public and private.—Democratic National Platform, 1896.

Free coinage means that silver and gold bullion shall be coined without charge by the United States mints. Unlimited coinage means that all the gold and all the silver present at the United States mints shall be coined into money.

The ratio of 16 to 1 means that the number of grains of pure silver in a silver dollar shall be sixteen times the number of grains of pure gold in a gold dollar.

By a full legal tender is meant that the debtor offers either gold or silver to a creditor in any sum, without the creditor being bound to accept it and discharge the debtor on his liability.

Gen. Buckner made another unconditional surrender and agreed to run.

Dick Knott and others turned down in Wapleson early in the game.

Boltoners nominated Gen. Palmer for President and Gen. B. Buckner for Vice-President. The platform out-Shermaned the League of itself.

Gen. B. Buckner 75 years old, and back numbers they say. If the only "pat" party with those in this world. They are old for McKelvey, J. H. Bradley last year.

INTEREST. A. Hendricks' wife and her husband's party's nominated and deserved re-

Arrangements looking to the withdrawal of the Populist electoral ticket in Kentucky, which have been pending for a week or more, were concluded at Henderson Saturday. Unless there should be an unexpected hitch in some of the details, there will be no Populist electoral ticket in the State and no Populist nominees for Congress in the Second and Third districts certainly and most likely none in any district having a loyal Democratic nominee.

Two nominees on the Democratic electoral ticket, one of which already exists and the other is prospective, will be filled by the appointment of electors acceptable to the Populists. This will make a certainty of 20,000 Populist votes for Bryan and remove any doubt as to the result in Kentucky. It will insure the election of Dr. Clardy by 6,000 or 7,000 majority.

Gen. Buckner has a running record in Kentucky that is by no means creditable. In the Democratic year of 1887 he led the usual majority of 40,000 drop down to 17,000 in his race for Governor. Since then he has been running for Senator, delegate at large and pretty much everything in sight, but had to leave the Democratic party to get any sort of recognition. He could not even be elected a delegate from Hart county to the Lexington convention. The General is a harmless old fellow, in his dotage, and will amuse rather than alarm Kentucky Democrats. The ticket he is on—if it gets on the ballot—will not average 100 votes to the county. If the old fellow tries to stump the State and say his piece as he did last year, his ticket will contest with the bolting prohibitionists for fifth place in the race.

The Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, the leading Republican paper of the Ohio Valley, has this item, relating to the recent order of the L. & N. forbidding its employees from joining Democratic clubs:

"Rumor has gained circulation in Covington that the local railroad bosses have denied their men the right to join any organization that favors free silver. At a meeting of the Blackburn Free Silver club Wednesday night a number of railroad men were present, and requested that their names be stricken from the club's roster. Much indignation was expressed at the action of the railroad bosses in thus compelling their men to submit to such tyranny."

Bryan and Clardy will have not less than 7000 majority in the Second district. Davies will give 20,000, Henderson 1500, Hopkins 1000, Walton 1800, Webster 700 and McLean and Hancock will offset Christian's Republican majority, if it is not struck by the landslide and wiped out entirely. The First district will give anywhere from 12,000 to 15,000 majority. The First and Second together may be counted on to give 20,000 majority at a fair estimate.

The Courier-Journal refers to the Republican club organized in Hopkins county with 250 members as "a sound money club," to create the impression that it was composed of white people. There are less than 40 Boltoners in Hopkins county, and they will be offset by five times as many free silver Republicans, to say nothing of several hundred Populists who will vote for Bryan.

Charlie Wheeler's handsome victory in the First district is very gratifying to his friends all over Western Kentucky, where he is recognized as one of the ablest and most aggressive of the new leaders of the party who have been brought to the front by the silver question. He will be easily elected and will make his mark in Congress.

Gov. Brown had a tremendous crowd to hear him at Madisonville Saturday and made an old fashioned Democratic speech that will do much good in that country.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, now prepared by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The Courier-Journal has passed by its daily press of the 1896 the Louisville Courier-Journal lays down the following propositions:

"1. That the demonization of silver, which has prevailed for years up to this writing, both in the United States and in Europe, is the effect of advancing the view of gold about 40 per cent.

"2. That this has been accomplished by depressing the value of all other property to that extent.

"3. That about 40 per cent of the property and producing resources of the people have thus been transferred to a comparatively small class of men whose stock of trade is gold investments.

"4. That in the exact proportion as gold has risen the burden of debt and taxation has increased, and that in proportion as property and labor have declined the capacity of the people to pay their debts and taxes has diminished.

"5. That the silver discount is creating a bonus of more than 30 per cent in favor of the farm production of India and Asia, which to that extent cheapens the wheat, cotton and various other products of the United States.

"6. That these lamentable conditions have been produced by anti-silver legislation.

"7. That they can be undone and prosperity restored by pro-silver legislation.

"If any newspaper in New York or Boston or Chicago or Philadelphia or St. Louis or Cincinnati or New Orleans can successfully controvert either of these propositions, it will render the public valuable service by doing so at once.

"If they cannot controvert either of these propositions they are obviously covering up a gigantic fraud and wrong which cannot co-exist with any degree of prosperity."

Gen. Buckner, who foreclosed his mortgage on the Park City Times last week, securing a controlling interest of the $15,000 of stock, has taken the paper with him out of the Democratic party and will run it in his own support. Ben Ringo, who has $5,000 wrapped up in the paper's stock, which will now be worthless, has the sympathies of his friends, especially among the press boys. He is a silver man whose heart is in the fight and with his hands tied he must sit quietly and be skinned by those who have gobbled up a controlling interest in the stock company.

Groat, Republican, was elected Governor of Vermont last year, gold Democrat, by 20,000 majority. The State was not contested in the least but was allowed to go by default. Wait until you hear from Arkansas. There was an issue there in yesterday's election.

Bryan has already spoken in nine States, leaving behind him a trail of enthusiasm like the tail of a comet. Next week he will visit Kentucky and North Carolina and then return to New York.

Jesus R. Grant, a son of Gen. U. S. Grant, now living in San Diego, Cal., has quit the Republican party and joined the Populists.

The deadlocked convention in the Fourth district will reasonably be expected without much delay.

The Republicans are preparing to start campaign sheets in Paducah and Owensboro.

The Louisville Aldermen pumpe themselves of contempt by expunging a part of their records objected to by Judge Toney.

ARTICLE BY JAMES K. PATTERSON

Before making my... or hunt I secured a... capote, with the fur... got one I was a shivering... the wind, says an... The capote I had fetched... Can., was useless, but... made of smoked leather... snowstorm soaked and... shrank it; then it was too heavy... run in and the blanket lining... greatly inferior to fur for warmth. No garment can excel the caribou capotes made by the Indians for exposure in the excessive cold and piercing winds of this north country. They are very light and do not, therefore, add to the burden of the voyager, while being literally impervious to all winds, save those deadly blasts of the Barren Grounds.

The Indian trapper in winter first secures stout moccasins and now "duffel" and next looks to his caribou skin capote. Anything may answer for trousers or head covering, the former, indeed, being moose or caribou skin, blanket or "store pants" got at the Hudson Bay company post in trade, while the conventional hat is supplied by a colored handkerchief wound about the head just above the forehead and ears, to keep the long hair in place. Formerly it was and still is in the more remote sections a moose or caribou thong bound by snow and decorated with porcupine quill. But the foot covering must be of the best.

Moccasins are made of smoked moose skin, because of its thickness (though the thinner caribou skin is equally durable) and are really the pride of the Indian wardrobe. They are the most, and every frequently the only, decorated piece of his apparel; in presentation they are the vehicle of regard from one Indian to another; they carry the first tidings of a more tender sentiment from the maiden to the young hunter and are the surest indication not only of the degree of the woman's handiwork but if she be married of the degree of her regard for her husband. An Indian's moccasins are a valuable advertisement of his standing at home. Blessed is the civilized world, inasmuch as its wives are not its bootmakers.

Moccasin decoration, in fact, practically all northern Indian ornamentation is done in beads, porcupine quill or in silk embroidery. Silk work is of somewhat recent introduction, confined entirely to half-breeds, and, although rather well executed, is the least effective. The French half-breeds are responsible for the bead embroidery which is in vogue all over the northern part of this country. One sees moccasins, mittens, leggings, all in the beaded flower patterns, taken from nature, and therefore becoming noteworthy but not nearly so striking as the pure Indian designs of the more southerly tribes.

The porcupine quill work is truly Indian, and, at its best, exceedingly pretty, both in design and coloring, though only the most skillful can do it acceptably, for each tiny quill is woven in separately, and the weaver's ingenuity or lack of it is revealed in the design. The best specimens of this work are in beads, porcupine quill or in silk embroidery. Silk work is of somewhat recent introduction, confined entirely to half-breeds, and, although rather well executed, is the least effective. ## PROOF POSITIVE

An Argument Which Shows That "Bacon Wrote Shakespeare." Mr. Donnelly's cryptogram on the Baconian theory of Shakespeare is cast into the shade by a new discovery, which, in the opinion of the supporters of Bacon, makes assurance doubly sure. Dr. Phil. George Cantor, mathematician, of the university of Halle-Wittenberg, has discovered, or, rather, exhumed, a Latin poem on the death of the incomparable Francis of Verulam, written by a friend of Ben Jonson, one line of which clearly addresses the deceased lord chancellor by the very name of the author of the immortal works so commonly called Shakespeare's. In that line Bacon is called "Quirinus." Now, what does that word mean? Therein lies the solution of the whole mystery.

"Quirinus," when interpreted, signifies a "pearl-shaker," which is equivalent to "spear-shaker," or one who shakes a spear; whence the contraction into Shakespeare is a mere matter of detail. Nothing more can be said on the subject unless the German mathematician pursues his argument further and proves that "Hamlet" and "Romeo and Juliet" were really written by Romulus, added, perhaps, by Remus.—London Daily Telegraph.

—"Rita's" latest volume of stories is called "Vignettes."

THE POWER VS. THE PEOPLE.

has issued the following: The friends of bimetalism: Campaign now in progress to be held on the third day of the month of January, 1897, to involve the most important and industrial question of the constitution of the United States. It is whether the present monetary standard, guaranteed by the constitution, shall be restored to its former right of unrestricted coinage, thus insuring a permanent and sound monetary standard, guaranteed by the constitution, and upon which the foundation of the republic is based.

It is a struggle between the "money power" on the one hand and the great army of toilers and producers on the other. The former is determined, if possible, to maintain the existing gold standard, believing that the constant rise in value gives an advantage to those whose wealth is chiefly in the form of money and money obligations. With a few very exceptional great newspapers of the country are directly or indirectly controlled by the moneyed classes and wedded to the interests of the gold standard.

THEIR ARGUMENT MISSES FIRE.

who are burdened with debt. Appreciating money means that the product must content himself with fewer and fewer dollars for the same work, while the debtor must turn over more and more of the product of his labor to satisfy the demands of his creditor. As production is at the foundation of all other industry, and a very large proportion of the world's business is done on credit, it should be a matter of great concern to all men to study it, to his country and to his fellow-man.

By far the best method of diffusing education upon this subject is through the medium of the clubs and leagues or unions. Such an organization brings the people together in compact bodies, and enable them to collectively obtain at nominal rates the very best lectures on the subject. This leads to discussion, not only by speakers from the platform, but between individuals.

As a result the chaff is separated from the gold grain, the essential and material matter is sifted out of a great mass that really does not touch the essence at all. The great contest is now on and it can be settled as the issue of the day. The decision may be right, the American bimetallic union strongly urges the formation of silver clubs and leagues in every state, county, city, town and school district in the union.

To all interested in the cause we say "organize, and we will assist you to the best of our ability." Our means are limited, and the wealth of the country is arrayed almost solidly against us, but we will aid in the work of organization and education. Such literature as can be furnished free, we will provide gratuitously, and all that necessarily involves expense will be provided at cost. In every legitimate way we will aid in the dissemination of correct information upon this subject, the correct solution of our monetary problem. For detailed instructions as to the plan of organization, application to the nearest branch of the American Bimetallic League, GEORGE E. BOWEN, Secretary.

The word "intrinsic" is often misused, many writers expressing the exchange of one commodity for another. This is best understood by considering the intrinsic value of air and water, which is beyond dispute. Air and water are not live if deprived of either. Yet the exchange value of air is nothing, and of water practically nothing. Their intrinsic value, however, is incalculably beyond that of any other commodity that could better dispense with gold than iron, the intrinsic value of iron is greater than gold.—Spokesman Review.

"Why do you punch that hole in my ticket?" asked a little man of the railway official. "So that you can pass through," was the reply.—Tit-Bits.
